

Declaration of consent for participation in remote learning
via the online learning platform „eStudy.fm“

As part of the lesson design and in connection with the containment of the COVID19 pandemic, your school offers the use of the online learning platform "eStudy.fm" for the participation in remote learning in order to improve the delivery of teaching content and the interaction with teachers. The online learning platform "eStudy.fm" includes all functions necessary for the implementation of web-based remote learning equivalent to face-to-face teaching. Teachers can use the online learning platform "eStudy.fm" both for pure remote learning and as a supplement to face-to-face teaching.

For your participation in remote learning via the online learning platform "eStudy.fm" a registration with your name and surname is necessary. The submission of an email address is optional.

In order to use the online learning platform "eStudy.fm" in the context of remote learning, we ask you to give us your consent to use the online learning platform "eStudy.fm".

Important note:

Your consent is voluntary. The consent you give can be revoked completely or partially at any time with effects for the future to the teacher in charge or to the school management and is valid until the end of the school year, if it is not revoked beforehand. Of course, there will be absolutely no disadvantages on your grading, if you do not wish to give us your consent or if you revoke your consent at a later date.

Declaration of consent:

I consent to the processing of my aforementioned personal data in the context of participation in remote learning via the online learning platform "eStudy.fm". I can revoke my consent completely or partially at any time with effects for the future to the teacher in charge or to the school management.
